Product description

Buttons to nav to menu or to basket.

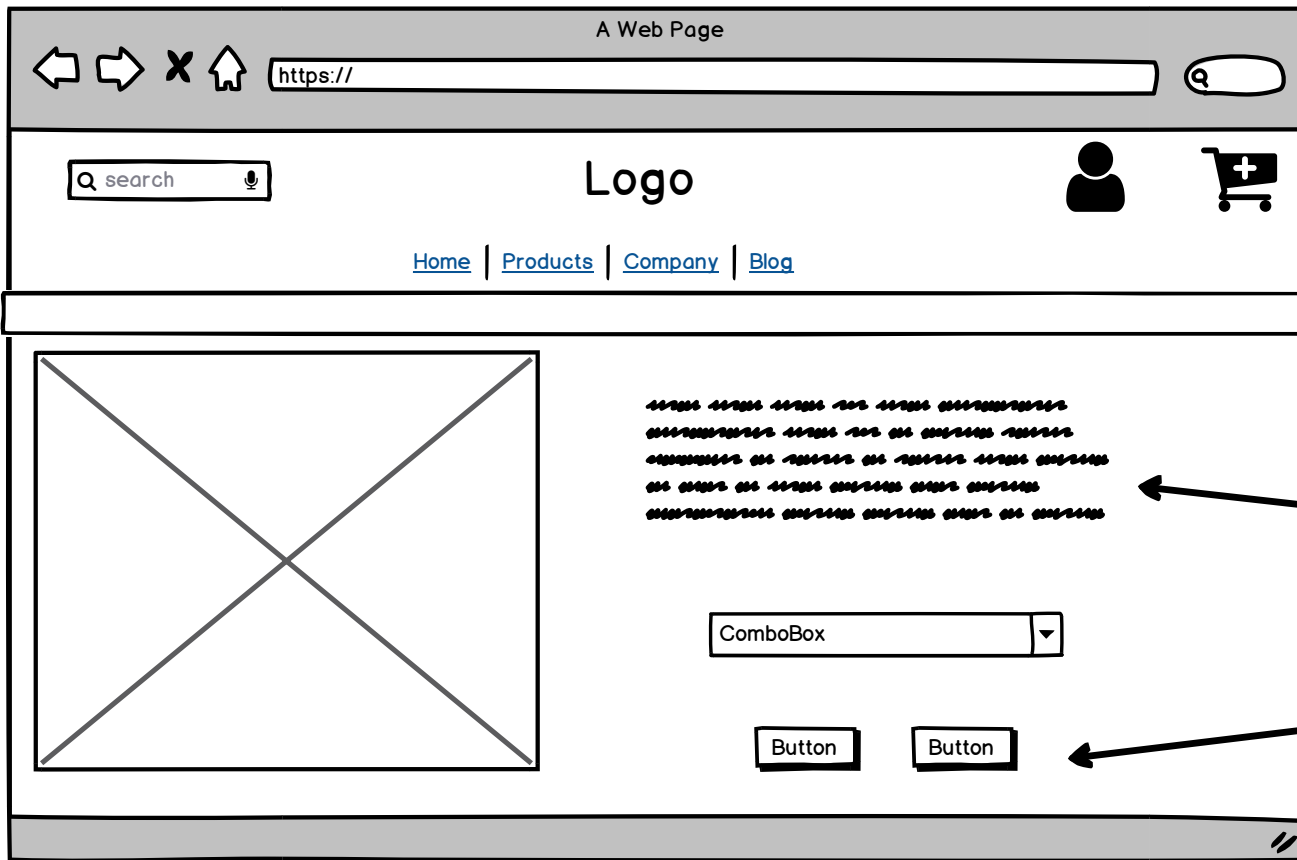

There has been some movement within these frames as I have trialled different ways to show different features. For example: Do I have the image upload and quantity all on one card? Or have separate cards?
I eventually chose to separate potential actions by having separate cards.

Product description

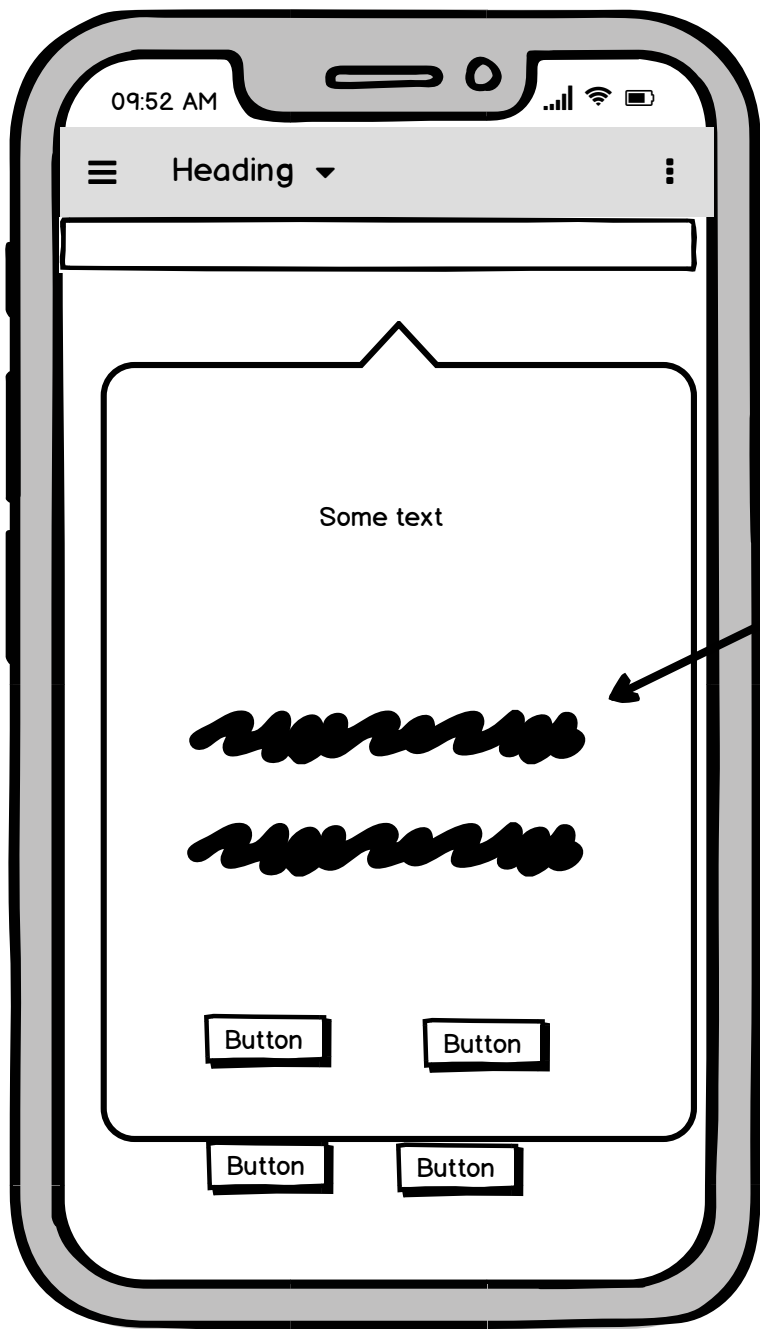

Buttons to nav to menu or to basket.

This is a modal to say the item has been successfully added.

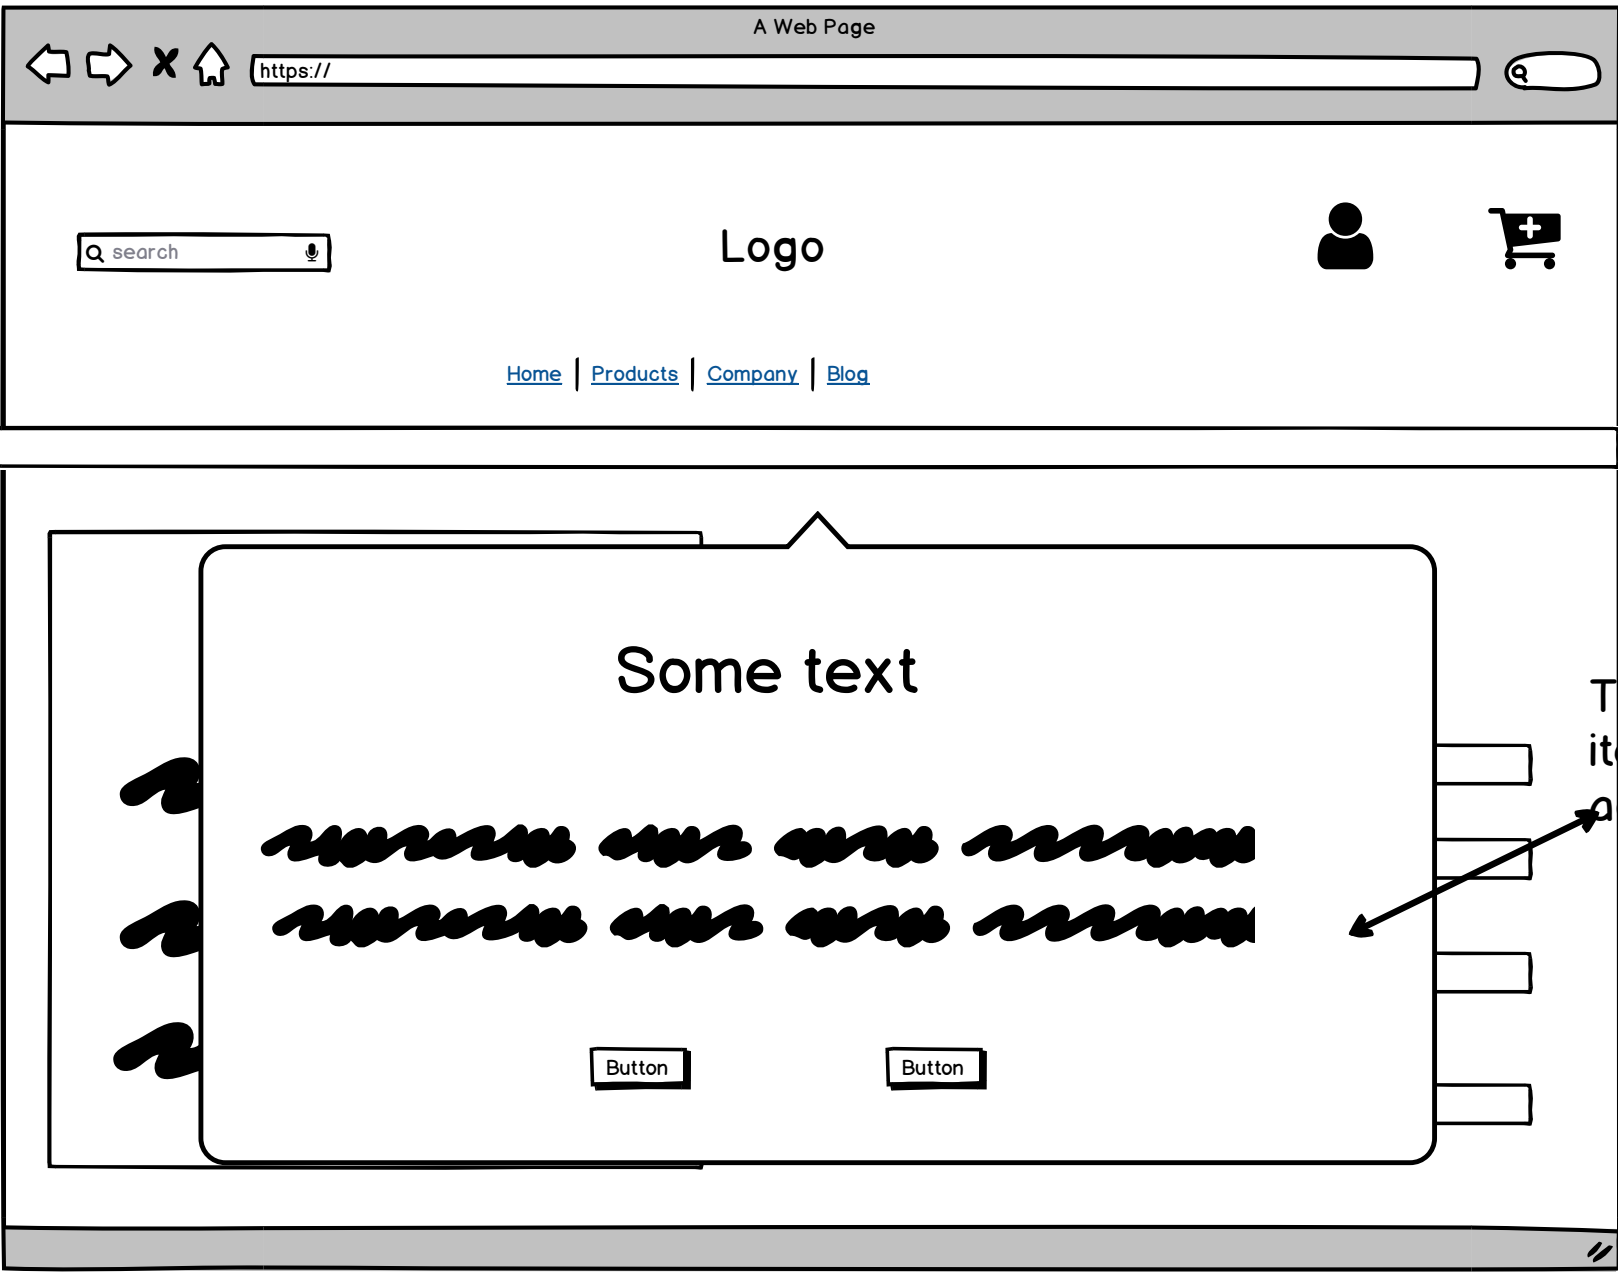

I chose for the modal to be scrapped, as it was to intrusive on the user experience. I felt it would be annoying if I had to confirm after every item.

Instead (see features) there is a feedback message at the top of the page that states the item has been added properly to the basket.

There is also a small transision on the basket icon.
